MBPros Exhibiting a NASW This Week

We will be exhibiting at the NASW Annual Conference in Washington, DC this week. Because of this I will be out of the office Wednesday, June 10 through Friday, June 12. For any of our clients who will be attending be sure to stop by our booth 104 to say hello.

Although I will be out of the office, billing will be sent as follows:

- For our TherapyNotes and Sessions health practices billing will still be submitted each morning.
- For all other practices we do expect to still be able to submit billing by the next business day.
- There will be delays with responses to support tickets during this time.
- There may be delays with insurance verifications during this time.

Thanks,
Steve
